Arcum invites to a seminar on Friday, February 9, 12.00-13.00 at Universitetsklubben, Umeå. Anna Zachrisson, researcher at the Department of Political Sciences, Umeå University, will hold a talk on "Pathways to Sustainability in Mining: Coping with Conflicts".

Since we offer a light lunch we kindly ask you to register for the seminar, no later than Tuesday, February 6, by sending an e-mail to gabriella.nordin@umu.se.

Anna Zachrisson is an Associated Professor in Political Science at Umeå University. Her research interests regards natural resource management and environmental politics, often in a rural context. More specifically, Zachrisson studies how and why conflicts unfold and whether collaboration may be a way to handle conflicts, in relation to the impact of different institutional settings. Thematically, her research deals with mining, protected areas, ecological restoration and the Swedish mountain region. She is often invited to communicate her research results in different fora.